Kapitel 1: A Christmas Story with Rosmarie

This story, I wrote as a christmas present for my mum and my little brothers, last year. For my brothers in german, of course. They are to small, they wouldn't understand any english.

It's a calender story, that's why I had to split it in 24 pieces.

And it is very easy to read.

1. A long time ago there lived an old man, a young man and a child.
2. The old man's name was Jussuf. And he was a very old man. Probably about a hundred years old.
3. The young man's name was Gabriel. And he was always very busy, because he was working for food for his old father and his young son.
4. The child's name was Matthias and he was Gabriel's son and Jussuf's grandson. He was a little bit sad all the time because his father had no time for him.
5. They lived all together in a little house near Bethlehem. But you can't see the village, from where they lived.
6. There were only a lot of hills and a lot of sand and very much grass and one cat, some palm trees and very many sheep.
7. The sheep were everywhere. One lived on the roof. It was called Rosmarie.
8. One day Matthias saw a big strange white bird. He was carrying a shining golden star in it's beak.
9. Gabriel didn't believe him.
10. Jussuf didn't hear him.
11. And so Matthias cried.
12. Rosmarie nudged him with her nose and said: "I saw it too."
13. And they both looked up in the sky and saw the strange big white bird again, who tried to fix the star in the sky.
14. But the star didn't want to hang in the sky.
15. And the strange big white bird cried bitter, salty tears, which fell on earth.
16. Matthias and Rosmarie ran to the big white bird and called up to him: "Hey you, strange big white bird! Can we help you?"
17. "Oh would you really do that for me?", asked the strange big white bird and came down to them.
18. And they saw that it wasn't a bird. It was a little girl who was wearing a long white shirt and who had long white pigtails and big white wings and bitten fingernails.
19. "Are you an angel?", asked Rosmarie surprised.
20. "Yes and my name is Sarah", said Sarah.
21. Matthias only stood there. He was so surprised, he couldn't move. He could only watch in amazement.
22. Suddenly, Sarah laughed. And Rosmarie and Matthias noticed, that wings grew out of their backs.
23. So they flew up to the sky. That was very funny and they laughed all the time. And Rosmarie did summersaults because she was full of happiness.
24. Then they arrived in the sky and tried to bind the star, but the star didn't want to hang there. So they used Matthias chewing gum and Rosmarie's spit, because the spit of a sheep glues very well.

24. They finished that job in the evening. And they saw the star shining wonderfully in the sky.

So they were happy and danced around.

Later they noticed there was light in old Jussuf`s stable. And because the stable was exactly under their feet, they flew down and looked in.

There was a man and a woman. The woman had a newborn infant in her arms. And everybody who saw these three people became lucky and happy.

Rosmarie, Matthias and Sarah flew home and told everybody this story.

Everybody believed them, because they had wings and Sarah was really an angel. So they had a big, but silent party for the child and every child in the whole wide world.

Gabriel and Jussuf were very happy to get Rosmarie and Matthias back. And they asked Sarah if she would like to stay with them and she said yes.

the only sad thing was that they lost their wings after this adventure. And Sarah`s hair wasn`t white anymore, it changed into black.

Kapitel 2: Endless Journey

A long time ago in a far away galaxy ruled an old and wise king over two planets. Well, one of them was only the moon of the other, more or less. But it doesn't, because it was rich in minerals and resources. And it looked quite nice too. However, the king was quite unhappy, because his only daughter lay in a deep sleep and nobody could wake her up. It would have killed her, because during the last big war, the king of the Robotkingdom, the Robotking nearly killed her. The deep sleep was the only way to save her. But the war was over now, it had been for a long time and still, she didn't wake up.

At the same time, on the other side of the galaxie and in a far away future a nice handsome boy tried to kill himself. His beloved girlfriend had broken up with him, because she wanted to dtay with the girl next door.

Just as he wanted to jump from te highest cliff in the dark blue sea, a voice ordered him to stop.

He turned around and saw the most beautiful woman he had ever met just in front of him.

"Don't do it", she said.

"What do you want?!", he asked in anger.

"Don't kill yourself", she whispered, " Please, I need your help."

He tried to touch her.

"You`re not real. You`re just a vision."

"No I`m not. I was killed a long time ago and in a far away galaxy during an awfull war, but you can save me!"

"What, but how? I can not even touch you!"

"You will! If you just do what I tell you."

"I`ve nothing to lose. Tell me and I`ll follow."

"The first thing is...."

It was a nice warm summer as he travelled with his grandfather`s ship across the ocean. After tree days and nights, he arrived at the island the girl had described him. During his journey he believed more and more that she was an angel. He was right about that, in a special kind of way.

In a deep hole on the island, he found what he was searching for.

It was an golden egg, which sang with a soft lovely voice a strange song. He picked it up and soon as he touched it he begann to grow.

and he grew and grew.

Soon he became bigger then the island, bigger then the oceans and at last bigger then his whole world. But he became lighter too and his shape nearly vanished.

The people on his planet were thinking that his eyes were some kind of new stars and his body a very strange cloudy weather.

While this was happening he saw everything. He looked at crying children, at a murdered man laying on the floor of his hotelroom and at the killer who escaped.

Everything, he saw just everything.

There was his girlfriend kissing the girl next door, his mother and father desperately searching for him. But everything was so small now.

Small and unimportant, just like ants, crawling around on the ground without any sense, he thought, 'God itself must feel like this. It's just great.'

He looked out.

There was the girl's world.

Even tinier than his own.

He went to it, crossing the whole universe and ages of time. It wasn't anymore than one step now.

As he arrived, he saw the girl lying in a deep sleep in the medical centre of her father's castle. Of course she was the princess.

'She really does look like an angel', he thought, 'I hope that I'll never have to leave her alone anymore.'

With a small move of his little finger, he turned the time back.

Suddenly he changed back to his normal size and he killed the Robot King before he could reach the princess in the final battle.

In the very same moment as he did that, everything stopped.

Bullets were hanging in the air the fires stopped growling.

There was no sound, no move anymore and slowly everything and everybody vanished. In the end only the boy and the princess stayed in the middle of a white nothing.

"You did it wrong.", she said and tears were flowing out of her eyes, "You did it wrong. Oh my beloved fool. Why?"

Suddenly she vanished, too.

And the boy was back, staying at the end of the cliff, turning round as the voice told him to do.

Everything was happening again and again, like an endless circle.

Maybe they will find a way out one time.

Maybe not.
