Malicious Thoughts

Left alone in darkness Yet found life there in Friends who follow me
just to find me there burried deep within my own malicious thoughts Friends who catch me when I fall
I want to thank you That's all
all I have to say I hope, I can refrain from it one day
I hate to fall into the darkness yet I can't crawl into the light
It will burn and sting and I can't manage it on my own not if I am all alone
