

Timeless Butterfly

Von Last_Tear

Lullaby

Your voice is haunting me in my dreams
I'm growing pale within the distance of time

Could I have saved you with a smile?
Was there anything left?

If love could overcome the past
I would trade my life to get you back again
If I could see you smile again
I would fly to the skies and bring you back to me

Throw away my heart
there is nothing left
I should feel

Throw away my memories
there is nothing left
I should remember

Your sweetest lullaby is breaking my heart I'm crying myself to sleep with your name on my lips

Could I have saved you with a smile?
Was there anything left?

If love could overcome the time
I would trade my soul to hold you in my arms again
If I could kiss you just once more I would give up anything dear to me

Throw away my heart
my love to you

has never existed
