

I don't want to...

Ein Gedicht zu "Battle Royale"

Von KleinerToaster

I don't want to murder, I don't want to kill.
I never had slain and never I will!
I don't want to think 'bout this massacre-game!
I won't be a soldier in our school's name.
They all, all my friends never take a live
And this way surely we all will survive!
Three days, only three Days my friends,
Until this chaos finally ends!

I don't want to kill, but I don't want to die.
I'm telling the truth, I don't want to lie.
I don't to hurt, but I don't want to bleed.
The will to survive is just able lead.
I just want to trust, But I'm afraid,
I don't want believe in that what they said!
Two days, only two Days my friend,
Until our very end!

I don't want to die on this island of blood!
We are just like devils and no one is god!
I'm a sailordressed Soldiers and I will survive.
I will go back to my normal live.
I don't want to kill, but that's how it works!
I don't want to be one of these liveless jerks.
One day, only one day left...
And I know, it is not my last...
