Why girl oh why are you looking so sad?
It isn't all so dusty, dark and bad
You've got it all, but why do you feel so depried?
You're getting emptier inside Can you feel it? There's nothing at all but you could be a perfect doll Yes, life is cold and cruel, too but think about the great things we could do
We would have lots of fun, forever and a day

In this cruel world there's no need to stay
I can take this tears away
I've got a magical world for you and me
My name is Dolly
Welcome to the dollhouse!

You've got the time and waste it slowly You're searching for things that no one can see Quit livin' on sweet dreams
Nothing is what it seems Now that you know what you're without Now that you know what's about you don't have to fear don't disappear
don't let me die here
There's someone who needs you

You're wishing for a perfect day for comming soon but you just cryin' fo the moon
So come with me, you can't pretend yourself
You couldn't live with no one else
And when the sky is cloudy there still will be someone that keeps on you as long as I'm here for you

There's no time left to explain again
I'm here to ease your pain

So many years I was trying
I pray, I burn, I'm dying
I just long for your soul
You're my sweetest doll

Can you feel the pleasure thro' your venes?
Can you feel the pleasure thro' your veines?
I can feel the pleasure thro' your veines!

I've got a magical world for you and me
My name is Dolly
Welcome to the dollhouse!
